PRACTICAL STRATEGIES TO MANAGE STRESS

Anne Quinn, M.S.

Stress is a reality of living in 2012. Most of us hit the ground "running" in the morning and don't stop until we collapse in a chair in the evening, only to wake up and do it all over again. This workshop will provide techniques and tools to help us move more easily and peacefully through our day, regardless of what is going on around us. Anne Quinn will discuss the value of living in the present moment, which helps us let go of the "would haves, could haves and should haves" of the past and can also help us manage our anxiety and worries about the future.

Friday, March 9th
